IT Security Breaches: Damage is Still Rising

What are you doing about it?

Featured Webinar:

IT Security Breaches: Damage is Still Rising

Fact, the latest State of IT Security survey results indicate...

- Network security breaches have become more of a problem in the past 12 months
- Even though the number of breaches has remained about the same, the damage is more severe
- Respondents say the average total costs of an IT security breach in 2008 is more than $85k

According to the joint FBI and Homeland Security's Assessment ...

- Rigorous attention to computer security and use of supporting technology reduces compromise
- Lax login and password policies increase the vulnerability of computers to exploitation of hackers

One of the Ten Worst Security Mistakes IT Help-Desks make, according to the Sans Institute, is to reset or change a user's passwords in response to telephone or personal requests, without securely verifying the user's identity.

What Can be Done About It?

- Utilize a secure self service password reset solution and mitigate risk
- Implement strong internal controls and document security protocols
- Educate employees; do not recycle or share passwords, and change passwords often
- Increase Security with myPassword's User authentication
- Eliminate Help-Desk password reset calls by 40% - Instant ROI

myPassword is a self-service password management solution that allows users to securely reset or change Active Directory passwords through an easy, secure web interface. Reduce IT Support costs and shorten IT back to school with mPowerTools

Namescape

Do you need to add hundreds of AD users this semester? You can.
Import your roster list and with one quick click you can create their Home Folders, add them to Groups, create their Exchange Mailbox, set Attributes and make them to change their password at login.

Do you need to delete multiple AD users clean up from last semester? You can.
And while you're at it, you can remove all of the following: Home Directories and Files, Mailboxes, Users from Home Directory ACLs, Users from Groups and their Profile Directory... again, all in one quick click.

Do you need to bulk upload user photos? You can.

In addition to these new features, the user interface has been updated, and we've added new reports and a more granular access to directory attributes.

Can't do it all yourself? Do you need to delegate tasks to other admins? You can. You decide what you want your admins to do and give them the tools to do it.

Would you like to schedule the job to run during off-peak hours? You can.

A schedule wizard allows you to schedule the tools to run at a more convenient time.

But wait, would you like to simulate it first, just to be safe? You can.

Every job can be run in simulation mode, then you can review the output before you execute.

mPowerTools is an indispensable Active Directory 'tool box' that empowers administrators to take control of unwieldy IT tasks. With the recently-released v5, mPowerTools now offers even more functionality and eliminates the need for tedious manual tasks that can consume your busy IT work day.
